

Outcome 13.2: explain how conflict and cooperation were used from the Paleolithic to the Early-Modern Era

1. Knowledge: Think back to what we have covered about the Neolithic Era earlier in the course. Use your notes for Unit 2, 3, and 4 to provide a brief “big picture” summary of the period in the chart below.

New Innovations (Unit 2)	Political Changes (Unit 3)	Economic Changes (Unit 4)

2. Organize: The development of towns and city-states was a key part of the Neolithic Era. What are the benefits and challenges of living in city-states?

Benefits of living in city-states	Challenges of living in city-states

3. Draw Conclusions: Based on your answers from #s 1 and 2 above, explain how cooperation and conflict would have been used by Neolithic societies.

Cooperation
Conflict

4. Comparison: How was conflict and cooperation in the Neolithic Era similar and different from the Paleolithic Era? In your answer, consider the goals of these societies and how they could achieve them.
